September 23 | Lake Naivasha

Area Overview

Lake Naivasha is a freshwater lake in the Kenya section of Africa's Great Rift Valley, and is located north west of Nairobi with the town of Naivasha on its north eastern shore. At 1,890 meters (6,200 ft) above sea level, the lake is at the highest point in the Kenyan rift, and is set in a complex geological combination of volcanic rocks and sedimentary deposits from a much larger Pleistocene era lake. Because the outlet for this ancient lake, now called Njorwa Gorge, is today much higher than the lake, the original Lake Naivasha must have indeed been a truly vast expanse of water.

September 25 - 28 | Maasai Mara

Area Overview

The Mara (as it is affectionately known) covers 1510 km² (583 mi²) and is widely considered to be Africa's greatest reserve. The backdrop of the Siria escarpment in the west overlooks sweeping savannas, riverine woodlands, and forests on a deceptively flat landscape that extends eastwards towards the Sekenani Hills and northwards towards the Aitong Hills. The Mara is in essence the northern extension of the Mara-Serengeti ecosystem and plays host to one of nature's greatest phenomena, the Great Wildebeest Migration.

September 25 - 28 | Maasai Mara

Because of the quality of wildlife viewing, the Mara has for generations been the setting of hundreds of wildlife documentaries including Disney's African Cats, and the BBC's Big Cat Diaries and Planet Earth. It is a haven for photography and every year visitors come to capture the spectacular wildlife. The reserve and its conservancies contain some of the highest densities of predators in Africa and this only increases as nomads and vagrants follow the huge herds back and forth through this ecosystem during the seasonal wildebeest migration.

The Great Wildebeest Migration

The Great Wildebeest Migration is one of the Seven Natural Wonders of the World and sees around two million animals (including wildebeest, zebras and gazelles) make the annual pilgrimage between the Maasai Mara and the Serengeti. It is not as straightforward as a south to north and return movement, but dictated by the drive to the calving grounds in the southern Serengeti and rainfall patterns throughout the ecosystem as the animals seek fresh grazing grasses and standing water.

The journey is fraught with danger as the herds negotiate predators and crocodile infested rivers such as the Grumeti and the Mara. The sight of wildebeest plunging into the Mara River in huge numbers is one of the greatest spectacles to witness during the period of June to October.

Note: The Great Wildebeest Migration and other wildlife phenomena and sightings are natural events and therefore can never be guaranteed.

September 25 - 28 | Mara Crossings Camp

September 26 - 27 | Hot Air Balloon Safari

Activity overview

A balloon flight over the Maasai Mara is widely considered a bucketlist activity that offers a serene and spectacular experience floating over the vast, lush, and game filled plains.

A lift off at dawn means you watch the sun rise as you head in a generally western direction. Flights usually last close to an hour and depending on the take off spot you float over riverine woodlands, watching hippos return to their daytime refuges and crocodiles basking on sandbanks. Sometimes predators and large antelope herds can be spotted below, pointed out by your experienced captain.

After the flight you will be met by the trailing transfer vehicles and taken to a pre-prepared picnic breakfast, beautifully set up in an idyllic spot on the plains.

TIME: GMT: +3 hours

CAPITAL CITY: Nairobi

COUNTRYTEL CODE: +254

LANGUAGE

The official languages in Kenya are English and Swahili. English is spoken at all hotels, banks, shops, etc. Kiswahili is also the National language.

MONEY ISSUES

Kenya Shilling. notes 50, 100, 200, 500 & 1000 and coins 1, 5, 10, 20 & 40.

Most major Credit Cards are widely accepted in cities and tourist areas in Kenya. You should call your bank before you travel and let them know you will be using your card in a foreign country, as sometimes banks will put a stop on foreign withdrawals for your own security.

ATMs are widespread in major towns. Please check with your bank to confirm that you have access to this service in Kenya. We recommend some sort of backup funds in case an ATM is out of service when you need it.

We suggest that you carry some US$ in cash, as it is possible to use US$ cash to buy things in many places; for tipping and also to negotiate with locals while shopping. Please do not bring in any US Dollar bills dated before 2013, as they are not accepted by banks.

HEALTH

As health and vaccination requirements can change, please consult with a qualified health professional at least 4 - 6 weeks before your intended departure, for the most updated information. The following information can be used as a guideline only:

General Travel Tips - Kenya

Anti-malaria: precautions are highly recommended and Insect repellent is recommended for use in the evenings. Please consult your doctor or health professional so that they can recommend the best options to suit you.

Yellow fever: Visitors arriving or planning to re-enter from countries where yellow fever is prevalent require a vaccination which must be administered at least ten days before arrival. Please ensure you carry your vaccination certificates.

Water: Do not drink or brush your teeth with tap water. Bottled mineral water is available at all hotels and lodges. Drink plenty of water when staying outside in the sun, during the day.

TRAVEL & MEDICAL INSURANCE

Please ensure you have sufficient travel Insurance and that you travel with the necessary Insurance documents. In addition, we have partnered with AMREF flying doctors to offer emergency medical evacuation insurance to a suitable nearby hospital (this insurance covers the evacuation flight only and access to a 24hr Medical Helpline for medical advice, during the subscription period, it does not cover medical expenses at the hospital).

WEATHER & CLOTHING

East Africa enjoys a pleasant year-round climate. Dress should be comfortable, casual clothing that is easy to care for and earth colours are most practical. The climate in Kenya is mainly characterised by warm days, but early mornings and evenings can be cool (especially if doing game drives in open vehicles), so dress in layers. You may want to carry a sweater for the cooler nights.

If you plan to do a walking safari, make sure you have comfortable closed walking shoes. Dining is usually smart casual. Allow for a more conservative dress when walking in towns.

The sun is strong so sunblock is recommended. A hat and sunglasses would also be a good idea. Also, with the changing climate, you may even encounter some rain, so do carry something for this. Most hotels have a laundry service; however, please check to ensure that it can be delivered before your check-out time.

Generally, December to early March are the warmest months of the year, while April and May often see intermittent rains. June to August are usually the coldest months but most days have a clear sky and in September to October the days are usually warm, with short scattered rains usually falling around November. The coastal areas tend to be hotter and more humid than inland areas.

General Travel Tips - Kenya

ELECTRICITY

The electricity supply is 240V 50 Hz. Plugs are usually 3-point squares. Please ensure you have voltage and plug adaptors where necessary. Most lodges use generator and inverter systems, with many increasingly introducing solar power or alternative forms of sustainable energy. Some lodges and camps only have power in the early mornings and evenings and sometimes the use of high-voltage items like hairdryers are not permitted. Various properties have charging points for personal appliances in the rooms/tents and some will have charging points in public areas – please check with the camp/lodge staff on arrival.

COMMUNICATIONS

Kenya has a good network of telephone, cellular and satellite connections. If you plan to use the hotel's telephone service, always check the rates with the hotel before making a call. If you have a mobile phone with a roaming connection, please check with your service provider about coverage and charges. You could purchase a local SIM card (with a suitable phone) and use pre-paid top-up cards which are inexpensive and widely available.

Internet is available in most of the tourist areas in Kenya and Wi-Fi is available in many of the hotels, lodges and camps. However, connections can be slow in some areas.

PHOTOGRAPHY

This is a photographer's paradise. If taking photographs of local people, always ask their permission beforehand. They may ask for payment. As in most countries, do not take photographs in airports or airport buildings, military or police buildings and of uniformed personnel.

If you are travelling with digital photographic and/or video equipment, ensure you have the specific charging apparatus for each piece of equipment (as well as the appropriate socket plug adaptor and voltage converter if required). Ensure you have enough memory cards before you head off for the bush – people usually end up taking more pictures than they thought they would!

TIPPING

In East Africa, it is customary to tip as a way of expressing gratitude. Below is a general guideline, however, this is just a guideline - tipping is at your discretion:

- Porters: US$ 1 per person per day.
- Waiters: US$ 2 per person per day

General Travel Tips - Kenya

- Driver guide: US$ 15 per person per day

SECURITY

Kenya is no different from any other destination in the world. Common sense should prevail and precautions should be taken as in any major city. Use hotel and lodge safety deposit boxes where possible. If walking in towns or cities only carry small amounts of cash and do not wear obvious jewellery or display expensive possessions. Rather than walking in cities at night, we recommend that you ask the hotel to arrange a taxi.

LUGGAGE

The total baggage allowance for each passenger on most light aircraft is usually 15kgs, preferably in soft-sided luggage. Please check with us if you are not sure of the luggage restrictions on your itinerary. Please check with us if you would like to store excess luggage in Nairobi.

GENERAL

If you visit a village where there are children, we ask you not to give them sweets. If you wish to give them something, we suggest items like stationery, books, clothing, etc... and we can help guide you on how to distribute them.

We are “guests” in the National Parks. Wild animals have right of way all the time. It is important to respect them and not try to touch them or make any noise to attract their attention.

Smoking in enclosed areas and public places including restaurants
